Additional data on the dominant lethal gray in Syrian hamsters, C. William Nixon, Rae Whitney, and Maureen E. Connelly, 74.

Allard, R. W. and D. R. Marshall, The genetics of electrophoretic variants in Avena: I. the esterase E_4, E_9, E_{10}, phosphatase P_5, and anodal peroxidase APX_5 loci in A. barbata, 17.

Anderson, P. K., et al., Measurement of genetic heterogeneity by means of enzyme polymorphisms in wild populations of the mouse, 321.

Animal Genetics:

Ascidian, genetic polymorphism in Boltenia ovifera, 193.

Birds: karyotypes of four species in the families Ploceidae and Paridae, 134; current list of chromosome numbers for avian subclass Carinatae, 217.

Cat, gene frequencies in Chicago and other U. S. populations, 273.

Cattle, serum cholesterol level, 15.

Cockroach: chromosome identification in wild-type and mutant stocks, 87; yellow and curved mutants, 361.

Dogs: connective tissue disease resembling Ehlers-Danlos syndrome of man, 249; cyclic neutropenia, 293.

Drosophila, chromosomes of some species of quarani group, 51.

Drosophila athabasca, long arm of the X chromosome in "western" and "eastern" strains, 231; the short arm of the X chromosome in "western" and "eastern" strains, 307.

Drosophila melanogaster, polygenic heterosis, 43.

Firebrat, gametogenesis, 335.

Fish: pigment reducing gene in Mexican blind cave, 10; somatic chromosomes of teleostean, 57.

Fowl: mitotic chromosomes of Mallard ducks, 35; malformation syndrome associated with triploidy in chickens, 113; perosis in domestic fowl, 163; prenatal, a sex-linked lethal in chickens, 185; delayed feathering in chickens, 281; prothrombin time in chickens, 289; uses of parthenogenetic development in turkeys, 346; spotting in down plumage of gold columbian chickens, 353.

Hamsters: lethal gray in Syrian, 74; interspecific crosses between Rumanian and Syrian, 149; dominant spotting in Syrian, 299.

Horses: lethal dominant white, 59; spermatogenesis in male hinny, 79.

House fly, chromosomal translocation heterozygotes, 301.

Mice: agouti locus mutations, 20; new hairloss mutant, 78; two unusual dominant mutations, 84; selection for sinistrality, 117; hemoglobin loci, 126; colorless hairtip in Peromyscus, 170; seminal vesicle proteins, 187; linkage of serum esterase and tottering, 221; third independent occurrence of brown mutant in Peromyscus, 286; vocalization, 337; measurement of genetic heterogeneity by means of enzyme polymorphisms in wild populations, 321.

Mormoniella, genetic analysis of the R locus, 269.

Polymorphism: limits of heterozygous advantage as explanation of, 180; stalked ascidian from Gulf of Maine, 193.

Rabbits, effects of inbreeding, 64; buphthalmia, 206; blood pressure in 13 strains, 312.

Rana pipiens, limits on heterozygous advantage as explanation of polymorphism, 180.

Rats: selection for adipsia and polydipsia, 332; low and high uterine metabolic status, 349.

Sheep: plasma transferrins in five breeds, 97; blood cell chimerism in one of three triplet lambs, 175; genetic investigation of a biblical myth, 192; genetics of multiple births, 261.

Spider mite, spreading and inbreeding, 343.

Tree shrew, chromosome studies of Tupaia species from Thailand, 153.

Atkins, N. B., et al., Spermatogenesis in a male hinny: histological and cytological studies, 79.

Babino, E. J., et al., Buphthalmia in the rabbit: pleiotropic effects of the (bu) gene and a possible explanation of mode of action, 206.

Barry, Edward G. and David D. Perkins, Position of linkage group V markers in chromosome 2 of Neurospora crassa, 120.

Beaumont, John H., et al., Dominant spotting: a new mutation in the Syrian hamster, 299.

Berry, C. D. and K. J. Lessman, Controlled crossing and inheritance of flower color in Vernonia anthelmintica, 75.

Bienhart, George and Pryce B. Gibson, Hybridization of Trifolium occidentale with two other species of clover, 93.

Blood cell chimerism in one of three triplet lambs, Göran Jönsson and Ingemar Gustavsson, 175.

Blood pressure in thirteen strains of rabbits, R. R. Fox, G. Schlager, and C. W. Laird, 312.

Bloom, Stephen: Mitotic chromosomes of Mallard ducks, 35; A current list of chromosome numbers and variations for species of the avian subclass Carinatae, 217.

Bogart, Ralph, et al., Genetics of plasma transferrins in five breeds of sheep, 97.
